The whole affair the 'Star's' despatch adds, is enshrouded in mystery. No motive can be conjectured for the double crime. The murder and suicide have caused excited discussion in the circles in which Dr. Breder-man and Fraulein Meyer moved.

Dr. Bredermann was forty-two years old,

Charges of Poisoning His Bride Presented to the Jury.

The Case of the Prosecution Opened and Testimony Begun.

A line of men and women extending the A line of men and women extending the entire length of the corridor in the Criminal Court Building, clamored this tor admission to Part III. the Court of General to listen to the trial of Medical Student Car lyle W. Harris for potsoning his young and behautiful wife, Helen Neilsen Potts, at the Comstock School for Young Ladies Feb. 1

The jury was completed yesterday. The interest of the public in the trial—the most important, District-Attorney Nicoli says, that has taken place in New York in thirty-two scare and Gould's attitude in the Western | years-was great, but only a few of the hundreds who attempted to get in succeeded. When Recorder Smyth took his seat on the
